Hancock schools hungry for taste of gambling revenue pie

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

While Harrison County schools have already received almost $2 million dollars from gambling revenue generated by casinos there, the Hancock County school district has yet to receive a penny of gambling revenue, although dockside gambling has been underway slightly over a year.

And it's not because gambling revenue has not been flowing into county coffers. This year alone there will be between $675,000 and $700,000, and the recently drawn county budget shows that supervisors expect to receive $1 million in gaming revenues next fiscal year, beginning Oct. 1.

But on the other hand, the City of Bay St. Louis has committed to give the Bay-Waveland school district $300,000 from its share of over a million dollars it has received in gambling revenues.

Board of Supervisors President Mike Ladner, in talking about the county's new budget, pointed out this week that a percentage of revenues collected from any new casino established outside the county's municipalities will go to the Hancock County school system as required in House Bill No. 1633, which became law on April 1.

Bayou Caddy Casino would be the first located in the county and is currently under construction. A portion of tax revenues derived from Bayou Caddy will go to the Hancock school system. Myrna Bourgeois, Hancock County school superintendent, said this week the system could get as much as $750,000 when and if Bayou Caddy Casino goes on line.

OPPOSE ANNEXATION

But she and some other residents fear that Bayou Caddy Casino might be annexed by Waveland, like Casino Magic was by Bay St. Louis.

So she and supporters have scheduled a "Stop Annexation of Hancock County Property" meeting Friday night at 7:30 in the Gulfview School Cafeteria

Council seeks reduction in Hwy. 90 speed limit

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

The Bay St. Louis City Council on Tuesday passed a resolution requesting the State Highway Department to reduce the speed limit on Hwy. 90 from Beach Boulevard to the Waveland city limits from 50 miles per hour to 40.

The resolution also called for the cities of Pass Christian and Waveland to join Bay St. Louis in the request.

U.S. 90 is still a federal highway but falls under the administration of the State Highway Department.

The speed limit is already 40 east of Long Beach and Long Beach is also taking steps to reduce the speed limit on 90.

GAMING REVENUES

Gambling tax revenues continue to roll into city coffers in large amounts. Revenue officially accepted for June was $29,164.36 in gaming tax revenue from the state and $320,861 from the service fee applied to Casino Magic.

The council is also continuing budget hearings in preparation for the adoption of the new city budget. On Monday the council met with Police Chief Frank McNeil to go over the needs of the police department.

In other business on Tuesday, the council:

— Held hearings concerning the cleanup of three properties: William H. Brown, No. 2 Lincoln, hearing extended to Oct. 5; William G. Ishem, 205 Citizen St., extended to Sept. 21; and Chris Lagarde, 203 Citizen, concerning which Lagarde said the menace had been removed.

Frilot responds to accusations

BY DAVID A. FARRELL

Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot, flanked by two city officials in her office on Tuesday afternoon, strongly denied accusations, made by citizens and one Waveland alderman in newspaper letters to the editor, that she has mismanaged city affairs.

The charges stemmed from differences over issues involving the moving of gas lines in the path of the widening of Hwy. 603, installation of a sewer line serving the Bayou Caddy Casino and the charge that her administration squandered a $2 million fund surplus left over from the previous administration.

Frilot said the facts in the issues had been "grossly misrepresented" in the letters.

Regarding the purported squandered $2 million, Frilot presented city bookkeeper Deborah Conrvey, who explained the city budget. She said at no time has Waveland had a $2 million "budget surplus."

She said some monies are carried over from previous budgets but those funds are obligated.

Frilot added that previous audits by state auditors proved her points, and Conrvey added that carry-over cash balances in 1989 was $196,000, in 1990 $153,000 and 1991 $139,000.

Frilot said her administration had received a clear management letter from state auditors last year, a first for the city, she claimed.

Her response came as a reply to a letter signed by Waveland resident Royce Kaupp which charged, "Waveland's financial statements reveal ex-Mayor

Hancock bus drivers want pay equal to surrounding districts

BY LIZ HAAS

Almost all of the 42 Hancock County School District bus drivers crowded in the school board meeting Monday to rebuke the 3 percent raise given to non-certified employees of the district.

Amie Emmons, a bus driver for the school district who filed a grievance to the school board and superintendent, presented her complaints over the three percent raise.

"We don't feel this is enough," she said.

Emmons said their pay is way below the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District's pay scale for its bus drivers and below all the other surrounding school districts.

Hancock bus drivers salaries range between $3,502 for first year drivers up to $4,403.25 for 30 years plus experience, plus three years back pay, which is $150 for 30 years plus experience.

Bay-Waveland School District Director of Transportation Billy Rhodes said the district gave its bus drivers a $500 raise this year.

He reported the base pay for drivers ranges from $4,500 to $5,500, depending on years of experience. The district has 19

The Picayune School District pays its bus drivers $4,478 a year, according to Director of Transportation Fred Jarrell. He said they have 60 routes with 40 buses, 40 drivers and 2 substitutes. Last year, the Picayune

Area-wide cleanup set

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's beautification committee is sponsoring a county-wide cleanup Saturday, Sept. 18.

Betsy Ashman has been named chairman for the cleanup day by the beautification committee.

The cleanup is in conjunction with the national cleanup of beaches and islands across country.

Individuals, groups, organizations, industries, clubs, schools, businesses and any interested parties are urged and welcome to participate, Ashman said.

Among those participating are GE Plastics, Diamondhead Business & Professional Organization, Diamondhead Rotary Club, North Hancock County Business Association, Johnson Controls (Stennis Space Center), Lil' Ray's, Christ Episcopal Church, Hancock County Chapter NAACP, and chamber members.

Those in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and the county who have adopted a street or highway are also urged to clean their adopted area on Sept. 18, Ellis Cuevas, chamber beautification chairman said.

Carol Vegas, chamber anti-litter chairman reported, "There is a greater and greater awareness of the problem in the area of litter among our citizens. Many more people are actively participating in solving the problem, and we are grateful for everyone."

Persons seeking further information can call the chamber at 467-9048, Ashman at 467-5496 or Cuevas, 467-5473.

Mercedes-Benz eyes Port Bienville site

BY LIZ HAAS

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission has invited the German auto company Mercedes-Benz to visit Port Bienville Industrial Park which is currently being considered as a possible site for a manufacturing plant.

Thirty states have submitted bids for the project. "This is a very competitive project," said Port and Harbor executive director Buz Olsen.

"Right now, North Carolina is probably the top site, but we are hoping to get them here and show them what we have," he said, "I know we can put on a good show for them."

Olsen said the commission should know within two weeks if the auto company has accepted the invitation. He said in October or November, Mercedes-Benz should make a decision.

The plant, which would build sports utility vehicles, would be a $300 million investment and create 1,500 jobs. Annual production is expected to be 60,000 vehicles with production beginning by 1997.

on Lower Bay Road in Lakeshore.

She claims the county school system will lose money if Bayou Caddy Casino is annexed by Waveland.

However, Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot at a Tuesday afternoon news conference said her administration had no intentions of pursuing annexation of the Bayou Caddy Casino.

Passage of House Bill 1633 generated a lot of debate between supervisors and some local officials when amended and passed during the last legislative session.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

Hancock supervisors this week said they plan to spend nearly all, or the bulk, of the $1 million expected next fiscal year from gaming taxes, on road and bridge improvements, and supported their decision by pointing to the terrible condition of Hancock County's road system.

Supervisor Mike Ladner said on Monday that the bulk, or major portion, of the $1 million is earmarked for road and bridge improvements, in the county's new 1993-94 budget.

Ladner justified use of most of the funds for road and bridge improvement by pointing to the delapidated condition of county roads, and adding that Hancock County is having to play what he termed "catch-up" because of, in the past, the lack of funds and neglect of maintaining and improving county roads.

He said paving costs currently hover at about $35,000 per mile. He added that there are about 300 miles of roads in Hancock County needing work.

The county for the current fiscal year has placed in escrow all gaming revenues, which has amounted to between $675,000 and $700,000, minus about $80,000.

PAY INCREASES

Of the $80,000, $50,000 was used to pay landfill bills and $30,000 to give county workers a previously approved 25-cent-per-hour pay raise in December.

Supervisors also expect to allocate about $220,000 out of gaming revenues to pay for Friday's approved pay increases for county workers and themselves.

Supervisors on Friday approved a 50-cent-per-hour pay hike for county workers and a 10 percent annual pay increase for themselves.

Admitting that she and supervisors "have been at odds," the outspoken and controversial Bourgeois asked this week that if Bay St. Louis can give the Bay-Waveland school system $300,000 of current gaming revenues, why can't Hancock supervisors share in some of the current gaming tax windfall with county school children?

"You would think this district would be treated as fairly as Bay St. Louis," she said.

"When gaming was pushed and touted as the solution to our problem, the main argument was that it would generate money to improve our education system. But you see what has happened to the main portion of the first windfall," she added.

"All government entities need more money, and I think education should have first priority. That is what I have fought for. Everyone is under the impression that we are getting some of the gambling revenue from supervisors, but we are not," she continued.

She said the school district will receive more money, but that is because of the increased assessed valuation of property, which generates more money when the same millage is applied. However, based on that projected increase, she said Hancock school officials reduced their millage request this year by one mill.

HB 1633

Concerning passage of House Bill 1633, Bourgeois said, "There was never anything put in writing on this matter (of what Hancock schools would receive). I asked the supervisors for a resolution on the matter, about how the revenues would be divided, and I never heard anything from them."

Last Spring, HB 1633 was before the State House, setting forth the authority of supervisors to require casinos to pay a tax fee not to exceed 3.2 percent of the gross revenue per month.

Hancock County State Rep. Harry Frierson inserted into the bill an amendment requiring that the 3.2 percent be divided up among the local governmental entities as follows: 20 percent to the sheriff's department, 15 percent to the county school district, five percent to the county library system, 10 percent in equal amounts to the various fire protection districts, 20 percent to the county to proportionately decrease the county ad valorem tax levies, and 30 percent to the county general fund, road and bridge, and bridge construction fund.

The insertion of that amendment raised the ire of supervisors, who immediately said they wanted the bill killed and sent a letter to the governor, requesting that he veto it.

Bourgeois and other supporters of the bill mounted a defense, contacting the governor, too.

Rhetoric flew.

Said board president Ladner at the time: "He (Frierson) should have allowed the county to make those designations. We would have gone along and given each of them their fair share. If they are going to do our jobs, let them come down here, and we can go on home."

Said Frierson then: "I did it to make sure the people got the benefits across the board for needs and not for some pet project of the board. . . Seems that the board does not remember the county north of I-10."

Right now, however, all Hancock school system officials can do is hope and wait for Bayou Caddy, and other casinos, not inside the county's two municipalities to come on-line.

Says Bourgeois, "The Hancock County school district should be realizing as much from gambling revenue right now as Harrison County schools, and not holding our breath."

Frilot

Longo left us nearly a $2 million surplus, which has been depleted, and the city is now living close to broke."

Concerning the movement of gas lines for the Hwy. 603 widening project, Frilot admitted that the city does not have the funds to move the lines, but she denied the city was responsible for delays, and city attorney Lucien Gex claimed there is still a question of whether Waveland should pay for the relocation project.

Gex said Waveland had signed a consent order last week that agreed to allow the State Highway Department to move the lines "in the most economical way" with the remainder of problems associated with the relocation put off for consideration later.

She said the city was first officially notified it had to move the lines at its own expense on Feb. 20, 1992, not April 10, 1990, as one letter writer claimed. She added that an application for an urgent needs grant was not filed late and was turned down because the agency it was submitted to ruled the project was not one that met the urgent needs criteria.

She said costs of the project, ranging from $150,000 to $300,000, were estimates, not firm prices or bids, obtained from various companies familiar with that type of project.

She said a plan for the city itself to relocate the lines was scrubbed when a critical employee needed for the work, a welder, died in an automobile accident, and questions arose concerning the liability insurance covering city workers who would work on the project.

Frilot's replies were aimed mainly at a letter written by Waveland Ward 4 Alderman Stan Weidman. Weidman said in his letter that in a July 5 board meeting, he requested information on the gas line relocation project, and was told by Frilot "that what I read in the newspapers was all I needed to know."

Frilot at the news conference charged that statement "is an absolute lie." She said she never told Weidman that.

Concerning the Bayou Caddy Casino sewer line extension project, Frilot said Waveland will not have to pay for any part of the project, that Bayou Caddy will pay for it all.

She said the city will see installed two lift stations valued at $75,000. However, she said the city will maintain the line inside the city, which is standard policy on any line installed inside the city, but the line running from the city limits to the Bayou Caddy Casino will be maintained by the casino.

She said the processing plant will not be overloaded and that the casino will be billed for twice the amount it cost the city to process their sewerage. She said the casino will also pay the electricity bill associated with the processing operation.

ments for non-certified employees of the district were frozen. This year, non-certified employees are receiving the unfrozen increments from the past three years, plus a three percent raise.

"It has cost us $86,000 to give these increments and raises to our 136 non-certified employees, and it will cost us approximately an additional $60,000 to give another 3 percent raise to all the non-certified employees," said Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois.

She said, "I'm not going to put this district into jeopardy, and that's what I feel this may do." Bourgeois said next year, non-certified employees will get their increments, plus another raise that will put them in line with the other districts.

Bourgeois said there are 42 routes and 42 bus drivers.

"If we need substitutes, we have certified bus drivers in the district who are assistant teachers and have other jobs who could drive the buses," she said.

Board president Lynette Necaise said, "We have mechanics driving buses when it was specifically stated that they are only to do so in emergencies."

"It's been stated that if we don't like it, we can go elsewhere, but who's going to drive those children to school every day?" said Emmons.

She said one woman in her thirty-fifth year of driving for the district makes $440 a month.

"I realize we don't work an eight-hour day, but at least pay us for what we do," said Emmons.

She told the board bus drivers work an average of four hours a day.

"We're not appreciated and we want to be recognized for what we do," she said.

Bourgeois said, "Well, the district pays for the driver's licenses at $75 each."

"Yes, but in four years, when it's time for renewal, is the district going to pay $40 for it?" said Emmons.

Bourgeois said, "We are trying to keep the district from going back into debt as it was prior to my coming into office."

"Mrs. Bourgeois, we have not operated in a deficit for as long as I've been here," said Necaise.

"I am asking you as taxpayers to understand. We have reduced your millage, why should we increase your taxes to pay you?" said Bourgeois.

The board told Emmons she would receive a response in writing.

The board will make a decision on the issue of raising non-certified employee salaries at its first meeting in September.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

The news about town is that a certain local doctor on a fishing trip this weekend took an unexpected dip. Reports say the doctor was trying to cast a fishing line out when he, the rod and reel, all hit the water at the same time.

The rod and reel was borrowed from another physician, and I am told it was sorta one of his 'hallowed' items, probably the reason it did not work too well.

In quick response the doctor was retrieved swiftly, while the rod and reel was a bit harder to fish out of the water.

Talk about the hospital is, several doctors are holding clinics on proper techniques for the use of a rod and reel and are inviting the watersoaked physician as a special student.

Really, on the serious side, it just goes to show the importance of having a life jacket on at all times whenever you are fishing from a boat. It doesn't take much to hit the water, and I know a physician who can verify this.

I received a telephone call from a subscriber Monday urging all residents with property located at street corners not to plant trees and shrubs which hide the view of street signs.

Those of us who drive about town know where all the stop signs are located, and this is good.

As most of you know, we have many new residents, and they are not as familiar with all the traffic sign locations.

I have noticed in recent weeks there are several stop signs hidden by trees and shrubs.

You may want to take a look if you live on a corner, as it would sure be a shock if someone was in a serious accident because of a hidden sign by shrubs or trees from your property.

A good idea is, if you live at a corner of a street, drive the area and check to see if a tree or shrub may be blocking the view of a sign.

Schools are now open, and traffic has really increased for an hour, or so, in the a.m. and p.m.

School buses use our roadways and highways in the Bay-Waveland and Hancock County School districts in addition to private schools.

Stopped school buses loading and unloading students should never be passed.

Please observe all school zones and watch out for the youngsters.

Anti-litter hotlines set up in Bay, county

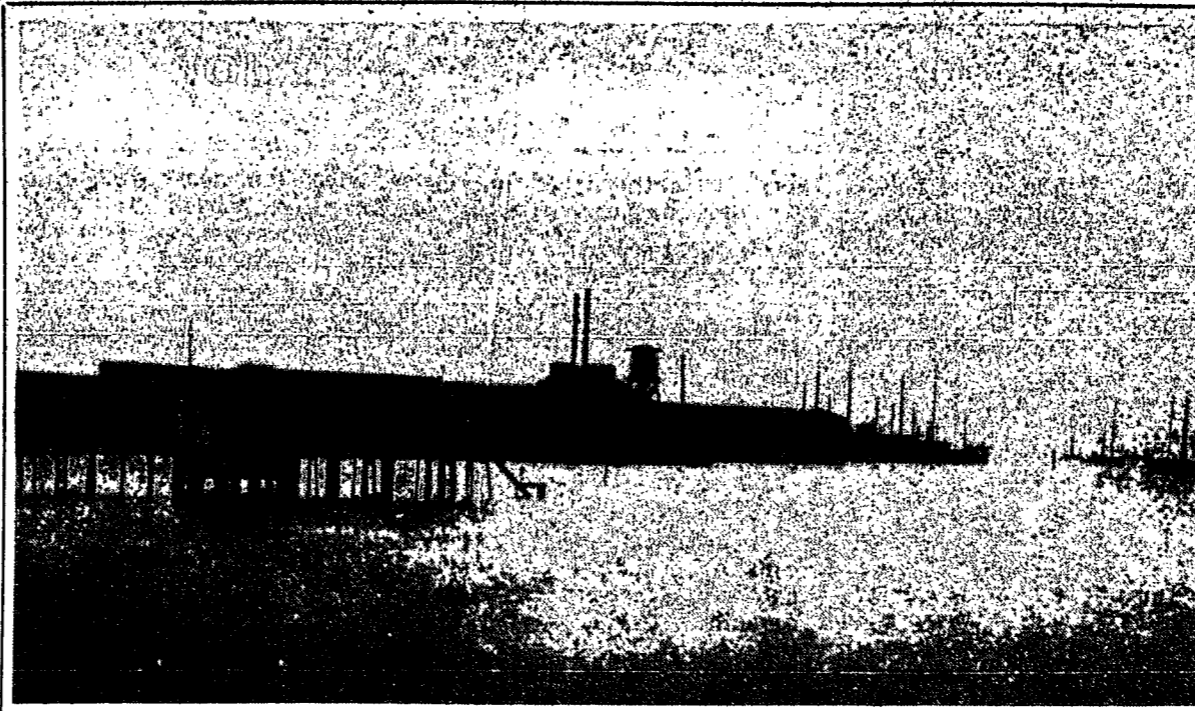

Hotlines have been implemented for people in Bay St. Louis and outside the city limits to call if they see someone toss trash out of a vehicle.

If you see someone do this, memorize or write down the vehicle's license number and call the appropriate hotline number. A recording will instruct you as to how to report the violation.

After the vehicle registration is traced, a letter will be sent by the appropriate authority to the vehicle owner. The letter does not accuse the vehicle owner of throwing the trash, but states that an occupant of a vehicle which is or was owned by that person was seen throwing trash out of the vehicle.

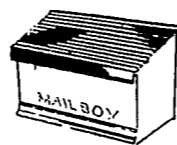

The letter states that no charges are being filed at the time the letter is issued, but also reminds the person that littering is illegal and carries a $250 fine.

The numbers to call are 255-6234 for a violation witnessed in Bay St. Louis, and 255-6246 for one witnessed in the county.

Oyster factory

This old post card shows the Peerless Oyster Factory, circa 1921, as it was located at the site of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Seafood items processed at the plant included oysters and shrimp. Also processed during season were vegetables from local farmers. The plant closed after several years of operation. Employees of the factory were notified to report to work by the sounding of a whistle. Many of the beach residents were said to have complained of the noise from the whistle. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Clermont resident opposes annexation, favors incorporation

To the Editor,

A big thank you to Mr. A. P. Bodeaux for making his opinions known. However, although some of his views are noteworthy, some are not.

The Harbor does not, nor has it ever wished to be annexed by Waveland. Some of our newcomers seem in favor of annexation, those of us who were born and raised here do not.

With the additional tax revenue that the casino will bring into the county, our supervisor, Mr. Robert Peterson, would do well to convince the board that at first, these tax dollars would need to be concentrated on this particular area to relieve some of our problems that we do have, such as water, sewerage and security. I personally am in favor of a municipality — against annexation.

Also, Mr. Ronnie Peterson is in charge of keeping the peace and watching over the rampant drug abuse taking over our lovely community. I realize he's understaffed and underfunded, and all the problems facing him, but his office has always responded to my calls, so don't blame the residents of Clermont for the county's problems. We don't like the situation either.

As to fire protection, the Clermont Harbor-Lakeshore Fire Protection District is alive and well, staffed with certified people ready to take the responsibility to handle that situation.

I personally did not vote for dockside gambling in our area, but here they are, and I truly do not think one square inch of our lovely communities will ever be the same.

To the Waveland City Councilmen, I request that you take care of your own flooding streets, pave your own roads, and don't bite off more than you can chew.

To Clermont resident, I request that you contact your sheriff when problems arise and talk to your supervisor about the tremendous positive possibilities Clermont and Lakeshore have this very minute.

We could compete with Diamondhead as far as growth potential. I do not by any degree intend to degrade the powers that be, but the challenge is here, the time is now.

And Mr. Bodeaux? There is not one tax-paying sleaze among us.

A Clermont Harbor Resident,
Ina Usher Day

Bay High students need sidewalks

Humane Society needs your support

Dear Editor,

After reading Mrs. Thyla Rogers' letter to the Echo last week concerning the plight of the Hancock County Humane Society, I took some good, wearable coats to their flea market building on the corner of Hwy. 90 and Drinkwater.

Mrs. Rogers called me, thanked me for my donation and invited me to the monthly meeting Aug. 15.

I attended and joined the society after hearing of the humane treatment provided injured dogs during July and the spay-neuter program the society provides.

Then a financial report was given, and I was absolutely shocked to learn that the society receives no monetary help at all from the county, Bay St. Louis or Waveland.

Their only revenues come from the $5 membership charge and money taken in at their flea market, and this building is not donated nor electric service.

Members who are up in years, like me, donate their services to run the flea market, which incidentally has a huge variety of good, clean clothing, books, etc.

On Oct. 4 a Magnavox VCR will be raffled off.

It is a beautiful machine, and I hope everyone who can afford it will help with this raffle, as the money is badly needed for rent, electricity, dog food, flea spray and so many other things.

Respectfully,
Nina S. Garcia

Hancock superintendent must be part of a team effort

Dear Editor,

On August 1, a letter appeared in your paper in which Myrna Bourgeois, Hancock County Schools superintendent, blamed the news media and school board members for her problems. She stated that the news media took her comments out of context and printed it without benefit of background information.

In an article July 10, after the school board refused to give Ms. Bourgeois an $8,000 raise she stated, "I'm supposed to be the most important person in the school district." If this was out of context as the superintendent claims, why didn't she give the background information in her response to Ms. Gray's letter?

It seems to me that no matter what the subject, Ms. Bourgeois always comes back to her salary. Ms. Bourgeois requested a 3% raise for the non-certified employees and a 16.7% raise for herself. When this was brought to the public's attention, she blamed the news media for keying in on her raise.

Ms. Bourgeois stated that the non-certified employees were getting a substantial raise for she was unfreezing increments which had been frozen for the past three years by the previous administration.

Three years ago every school district in the state was facing cutbacks. The previous superintendent cut back on administrative and office personnel that amounted to approximately $100,000 and froze the non-certified increments to prevent cutting programs and laying off teachers. Unfreezing yearly increments that rightfully belong to these employees cannot be considered a raise.

In her letter to the editor Ms. Bourgeois blasted the school board members by stating "When I came in as superintendent the board chose to cut my salary down from the salary of the previous male superintendent. I believe I have the right to expect the same salary as my predecessor. Also, as superintendent I should be an example to the 50% of our students who are female by showing them that it is not acceptable to be treated as second class citizens."

Is it discrimination when a superintendent is paid on a salary scale which was created in 1987, and is Ms. Bourgeois being treated as a second class citizen because she is a female, when four board members who are female voted against her recommended $8,000 raise?

And would Ms. Bourgeois hire a teacher with no experience at the same salary as a teacher with many years of experience? It took the previous superintendent many years to work up to the salary he was making when he left office.

Also Ms. Bourgeois should realize that many of the people working and paying taxes to help pay her salary make only a small percentage of the salary she makes, and we cannot understand why her salary is her main issue. She knows, or should have known, what the salary scale was when she ran for office.

Ms. Bourgeois states in her letter that "the superintendent has the full responsibility of every child, every teacher, every principal, every bus driver, every employee. . ." I disagree with Ms. Bourgeois.

These are the same responsibilities that each of our elected school board members are faced with, and the final decisions of the operations of our school district rest upon the shoulders of each school board member when they cast their votes.

The superintendent is only one facet of our school district and must work as a team member if we are going to continue the success in education that we saw under the previous superintendent's administration.

Sincerely,
Susan Crow

Free trade side-agreements don't make it any better

With much fanfare and hoop-la, trade negotiators for the United States, Mexico and Canada announced this month that they had reached agreement on labor and environmental issues that had been stalling the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) since early this year.

The agreement, which trade negotiators hope will be ratified by Congress later this year, would create the world's largest free-trade zone. The trade zone would cover a territory stretching from the Yucatan to the Yukon with some 360 million consumers and an economy of $6.4 trillion.

While proponents of NAFTA hail the approval of the side agreements as part of a new and improved free-trade agreement package, I still see the North American Free Trade Agreement as nothing more than a bad idea peppered with a few weak labor and environmental side agreements. The side agreements have no teeth.

The North American Free Trade Agreement, as has always been the case, will spur job flight to Mexico and further damage an already polluted American-Mexico border.

U.S. manufacturers will relocate to Mexico to maximize profits, while opportunities for America's young people will continue to decline. Whatever

STREET TALK

The county has earmarked the bulk of the $1 million expected next year in gaming revenues for road and bridge improvements. Do you feel there should be any money allocated for education?

"I do. Being a past educator, I think the county needs to allocate some of the money to education. I think the gaming money should be an addition to the taxes and used for whatever is necessary, but I don't think there's anything more important than education."

Clarence Ladner

profits come out of this agreement will come at the expense of Americans.

Furthermore, a major concern of mine is that the United States will lose its sovereignty. For example, the creation of a tri-national commission, designed to deal with labor and environmental issues, could vote to supersede strict U.S. labor and environmental laws. If the U.S. does not agree with the panel's decision, they will have the authority to slap stiff tariffs or quotas on U.S. commerce.

One wrong decision by the tri-national commission could weaken U.S. environmental, labor, public health and consumer safety standards, simply to appease Mexican or Canadian government officials.

Advocates of the agreement argue that Mexico will be strengthened by America's investment in the region. I believe the exact opposite. Any economic growth spurred by U.S. investment would come at the expense of American industries and workers.

Placing the stronger U.S. economy on a level playing field with a weaker Mexican economy will only benefit Mexico in both the long and short run.

The agreement is essentially a jobs program for Mexico because American companies that haven't already done so will move to Mexico because of cheaper labor and operational costs. It is as simple as that.

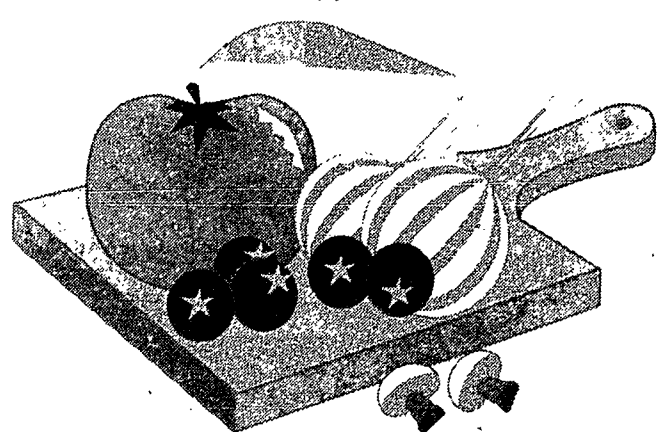

Donations sought by Red Cross for flood victims

Persons interested in making a cash donation for victims of the flood in the Midwest can do so at any Hancock Bank, said Hancock Red Cross office manager Bertina Burge.

"There is still a big need for funds to help aid those whose homes have been ravaged by flood waters," Burge said.

Donations can be made at any Hancock Bank to the Midwest Flood Victims account. Monies collected along the Coast will be forwarded to Red Cross offices in the flood areas.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

POA NOTICE

Progress continues at the 19th Hole with a scheduled opening on Labor Day.

The POA is continuing to complete foreclosure activity, and interest in Diamondhead property is extremely high. Several large purchases of Diamondhead subdivision lots belonging to the state of Mississippi are in progress, which could bring the POA an additional $2,500 in monthly assessments.

Based on demand and sale of comparable property by local realtors, the POA prices have been raised $1,000 effective July 26 across the board with selected exceptions.

Paving and drainage work not currently under binding contract have been deferred.

The board will consider additional work to be accomplished this year after issues raised by the BEGIN group, which challenges the board, are settled.

This can't be too soon for most residents of Diamondhead who long for a little peace, quiet and harmony back in their community.

Folks, Diamondhead is growing so fast, and we need to grow together.

HELP!

Your Diamondhead Fire Department needs two or three residents to come to their rescue and relieve them of a real problem.

Right now the department has only one volunteer dispatcher. When both firemen on duty are called out on a run at night, this dispatcher has to respond, or there is no one to answer any calls that might come in. Needless to say, this creates a very touchy situation.

Won't you please give some of your time and effort, and call Chief Westbrook to volunteer. The number is 255-1314.

We're so very grateful for our firemen, their good service and quick response time.

Anyone in Diamondhead who has had to call 911 in an emergency knows the department is right there, right now, ready to do their job. Thanks so much, guys!

D'HEAD FIRE DEPT. SAFETY TIP

Please store all charcoal in a well-ventilated area.

LINE UP

Ruth and Charlie Olivier can teach you almost any dance because they are so good themselves.

They invite couples and singles to join the Diamondhead Dancers on Tuesday afternoons at the Community Center at 2 p.m. (1 p.m. on AARP day) and at 7 p.m. there every Wednesday.

If you've ever been to a wedding reception where a group of folks line up to do the Cotton Eyed Joe, Popcorn, etc. and you long to join them, now's your chance to learn the steps. Believe me, it gets your adrenaline going and you will enjoy it. Bring your partner or a friend.

DIAMONDHEAD PAS

Well, this group (Diamondhead Performing Arts Society) has done it again, brought those in attendance at the wonderful concert on Aug. 15 at the Country Club by the famous jazz legend Allen Toussaint two hours of magical music. Why, even those rafters were shaking to the beat. I was so glad to be in that number.

COMING UP

Remember Dennis and Nancy Assaf in concert some time back? When these two combined their magnificent talents it was pure joy to our ears, full of sentiment and nostalgia and reminiscent of Nelson and Jeanette.

They brought some tears to our eyes, too.

Well, half of this great team is coming back to Diamondhead (thanks to the Diamondhead PAS) on Sunday, Sept. 12 at the Country Club.

Written and produced by Dennis, "Denny (Will) Discus da Awchestra." It promises to be another fun-filled, magical musical that you just can't afford to miss. Please "stay tuned" to this column for ticket information.

DIAMONDHEAD'S OWN

Diamondhead's own resident thespian and seasoned performer Clem Acker and Nan Ehrbright, both well known on the local theatre circuit, will be "Andy and Melissa" from the time they meet in kindergarten throughout their lives in the Little Theater production of "Love Letters."

Their relationship is maintained through these letters as they share life's ups and downs.

A. R. Gurney's "Love Letters" will be on stage August 27 at the Diamondhead Country Club at 8 p.m. This will not be a dinner theater, but promises to provide Diamondhead folks a great evening of a little different form of drama.

Diamondhead community
continues to grow

I can attest to Clem's fine portrayal of Andy having seen him in the Center Stage production of same. Tickets are $7.

For your reservations, please call 255-1814. "Break a leg," Nan and Clem.

Waveland resident marks 100 years

Mrs. Rose Hale of Waveland celebrated a century of life on July 10.

The petite, white-haired matriarch has two daughters and a son who also reside in Waveland, Doris Seuzeneau, Edith Ruhr and Paul Hale. She is also the mother of the late Warren Hale, and the wife of the late Benjamin Hale.

Mrs. Hale has seven grandchildren, Betty Chiniche of Bay St. Louis, Debbie Ruhr of Waveland, Cheryl Morris of Council Bluffs, Iowa and Corky Hale, Dennis Hale and C.J. Hale, all of Long Beach, and the late Jackie Seuzeneau. Her great-grandchildren number 15. She has five great-grandchildren.

She celebrated the day with relatives and friends at the home of James and Betty Chiniche on Old Spanish Trail.

Mrs. Hale displays a special birthday card from the White House in honor of becoming a centenarian.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Garden-grown okra
is versatile vegetable

Okra, one of the favorite vegetables in the South, grows profusely through the hottest summer days, even when cultivated by reluctant and browner-than-brown-thumbed gardeners such as I.

Native to West Africa, okra is widely grown in tropical and subtropical countries, where the fruit or pod is known under the Bantu name "gumbo."

Okra is quite a versatile vegetable, also, whether steamed or boiled, or fried, smothered, stewed, pickled, or whatever other way you choose to cook it. And what would our famed gumbo be without okra's thickening qualities and unique flavor?

My grandmother long years ago used to advise us, "Eat more okra, Chere, it cools the blood and is good for you." So it was "okra this" and "okra that" all summer long at her house.

She also followed the old

Southern custom of cooking whole pods of okra atop butter beans or field peas, not only adding flavor to the other vegetables, but also keeping in more of the vitamins and minerals.

Okra is tasty when barely boiled or steamed until tender, then chilled and served with oil and vinegar and freshly ground black pepper, and perhaps a meager dash of salt.

It's also tasty when braised or sautéed in bacon drippings, after you've washed the pods and sliced off the stems so that it won't be so slippery.

French fried okra slices, or "okra oysters" have an almost oyster taste, hence the name. Delicious as a vegetable at mealtime, okra oysters are also a popular item on the hors d'oeuvre tray.

And, since we're in a salad mood these sultry days, let's quickly mix up an:

OKRA, TOMATO AND ONION SALAD

1/2 lb. fresh okra
1 white onions, thinly sliced
2 tomatoes, cut in eighths, or smaller, as you prefer
1 tsp. lemon juice
4 Tbsp. olive oil
1 Tbsp. plus a bit more, if desired, apple cider vinegar
1/2 tsp. Creole mustard
Dash of hot pepper sauce
Steam or simmer the okra until tender, adding the lemon juice to the water to cut down on slipperiness! Drain the okra, cut off the stem ends, and place in a bowl. Add the sliced onions.

Make the vinaigrette dressing — of the oil and vinegar, mustard and pepper sauce, whisking it all together, then pour over the okra and onions. Add the tomatoes.

I like to be far more generous with the oil than with the vinegar in my dressings; but a three-to-one ration of oil to vinegar makes a good vinaigrette, unless you prefer yours quite vinegar-bity!

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Large white shrimp
are now plentiful

It's time to go fishin' y'all. The Turtle has been doing pretty good lately using live shrimp under a popping cork, even though the supply of live shrimp was low to non-existent for the past few weeks. This means that it was hard to fish with live shrimp when there was no live shrimp available.

Although some folks tell me that they have caught fish with a bare hook under a popping cork, I would have to check their barley pop supply before I would bet the whole fishin' trip on using only a bare hook.

Let's see, there must be some logical reason why I started talking about live shrimp. O' yea, I could not find any saddles big enough for the red fish that are being caught out in front of Buccaneer State Park. The saddles I found were a size too small for the reds that have been caught lately.

But, they are just the right size for the extra large—I mean really big—white shrimp that are showing up in places like Terry's seafood down by Bayou Caddy. The shrimp are fantastical (translation: good ole big uns).

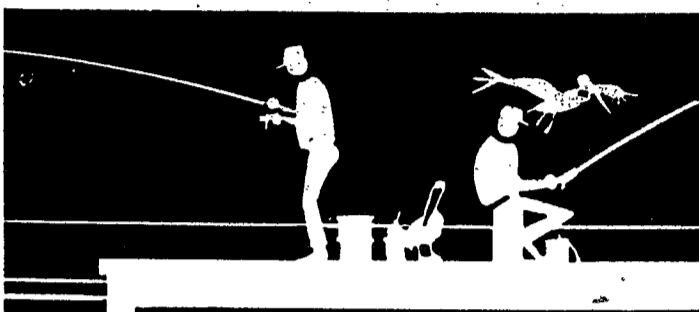

Since shrimp are the Turtle's next to best favorite food, he had a long talk with Terry Lader of Terry's Seafood about the big beautiful crustaceans that he had on his dock.

According to Terry, the white shrimp are the most difficult of the shrimp species to catch. For example, did you know that a white shrimp can jump as much as 14 feet in the water when it is startled? Talk about bucking broncos.

Anyway, the white shrimp are in big school right now. Terry says that that will not last long because as soon as the shrimping pressure is put on them they will scatter.

He said the big whites are

Place this concoction in a pre-heated 350-degree oven for about 30 minutes. Check by tasting to tell when the shrimp are done. Don't eat them all by tasting, that is not fair to the rest of the family.

coming in now, but to expect that they will soon be mixed with smaller brown shrimp as the schools are scattered.

Before I finish up with shrimp this week, I would like to leave y'all with a recipe, that you might wanna try, using the big shrimp that are now available. The recipe is simple.

For each pound of shrimp, with heads on, that you want to cook, you need one stick of Fleischmann's margarine. If you want to cook two pounds of shrimp you need two sticks of Fleischmann's margarine, and so forth.

You place the shrimp in a baking pan so that they are no more than one layer deep. Cut the margarine into one inch cubes and place it here and there in the pan. Next get out your can of black pepper and go crazy sprinkling the stuff on top of the shrimp and the margarine.

Unless, of course, you can't resist eating them all. In that case, tell them to make their own.

After the shrimp are done, peel them and eat them with some French bread to dip into the juice. You can't believe how good these shrimp taste prepared this way.

Don't worry how much black pepper you put on top of the shrimp. For some reason this does not make the shrimp too spicy to eat. It just gives them a great flavor.

I came across a real neat fishin' item in a pack of Stren fishin' line the other day. It seems that Stren is packing a ruler that you can stick right on your fishing rod so that you can measure the size of your fish without much hassle.

This ruler ought to make the green men with the flashing blue lights happy, or unhappy, depending on which way you

Strange flounder

Kirk Folse caught this flounder at Bayou Caddy near Pleasure Street. He said he did not know whether the abnormality was caused by pollution or some other problem in the fish's growth and development.

BWYC juniors take 2nd place in Liptons

Special to the Echo

The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club juniors scored a second place in the Gulf Yachting Association's Junior Lipton Regatta held this past weekend at the Gulfport Yacht Club. Sailed in Flying Scots, the three-race regatta is the GYA's junior championship, and this year had 16 clubs competing.

For the first race on Saturday, BWYC sent out Alan Uram as skipper with Sara Smolensky and Kippy Chamberlain as crew. The three sailors played catch-up for most of the race, and managed a hard-fought fifth place finish after catching several boats on the final leg of the Olympic-style course.

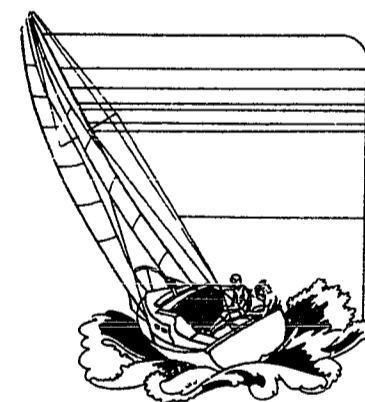

With the wind speed increasing for race two that afternoon, the club sent out skipper Gilly Chamberlain with Scot Renkin and Sanders Kane as crew. This group also had to play catch-up after the first leg of the race and managed another fifth place finish by keeping their heads and staying with it.

Going into the third and final race on Sunday morning, BWYC was in third place just behind defending champion Gulfport and just ahead of several other clubs. Pontchartrain Yacht Club had a commanding lead in the series.

Sanders Kane skippered the final race for the locals with Gilly and Kippy Chamberlain as crew. Combining an excellent start with a good first leg, the BWYC team rounded the first mark in third place. Employing good boat speed and tactics, the team took the lead on the fourth leg and was first at the finish with a sizable lead.

After crossing the finish line, the Chamberlain brothers continued one of the oldest traditions in yacht racing by promptly throwing skipper Kane overboard (after a short struggle) to celebrate his first victory in a Junior Lipton Regatta.

The final race finish gave BWYC 10 and 3/4 points and was sufficient to earn second place in the regatta, three points behind winner Pontchartrain Yacht Club. Pensacola Yacht finished third overall.

Defending champion Gulfport Yacht Club started off well by winning the first race, but struggled in the remaining races and suffered a disqualification in the final race.

Perennial contender Southern Yacht Club took itself out of contention when an equipment failure in the second race resulted in their mast falling in the water.

This is the second consecutive second place finish for the BWYC juniors, and bodes well for an emerging junior program. Other juniors contributing to the effort were Chad Renken, Sarah Taylor, Joann Mestayer, Mike Benvenuti, Peter Martinez, Patrick Martinez, James Wadesworth, Richard Mestayer, Noel Twigg, Avalynn Taylor, Emily Taylor, Steven Hart, Drew Scaffide, Daniel Bourgeois and Kay Kennedy.

The 1994 Junior Lipton Regatta will be hosted by the Pontchartrain Yacht Club in Mandeville. The BWYC junior will be there with another strong team.

While I am on the subject of BMR, I gotta give them a great big 'BOOO' for their action this past week. A fisherman caught a flounder in the Bayou Caddy area that was obviously diseased.

The fisherman was concerned that perhaps water pollution could have caused the sores and mutations on the fish. He called BMR. Sounds logical, right?

I mean, after all, those are the folks who are supposed to have biologists paid with our tax dollars and our fishing license fees. Not!

Our fisherman got told where BMR stands. They told him they not only did not want to see the fish, but they did not want to get involved. So much for improving their public relations.

This week's wonderful wise words: Better take a look at those beautiful shrimp before they ride off into the sunset.

Do they use waterproof leather for shrimp saddles, Turtle?

Bay St. Louis has been receiving lots of prime time exposure on the airwaves thanks to Casino Magic-sponsored boxing. In a Tuesday night bout, 42-year-old Roberto Duran posted his 90th victory by knocking out Sean Fitzgerald, 23. It was the former champion's 62nd KO and was televised on USA Network. On Saturday night HBO featured main events where IBF middleweight champ and Pensacola native Roy Jones knocked out Thulane "Sugar Boy" Malinga in the sixth round. Also in the sixth round, undefeated junior lightweight Oscar De La Hoya claimed a win over Renaldo "Little Red" Carter.

Help children understand nature, value of money

No flame burns hotter than hard cash in a child's pocket, as any Hollywood movie merchandiser will happily attest.

As toy stores become glutted with trendy, eye-catching products aimed at young consumers, such as those associated with "Jurassic Park" and "Last Action Hero," it's important to teach children the management of money at an early age, says Dr. William F. Shughart, professor of economics and holder of the Self Chair of Free Enterprise at The University of Mississippi.

"Making choices is always difficult for children, but choosing how to spend their own money on items they want teaches them the basic economic concept of opportunity-cost," said Shughart, father of two small boys.

"The cost is not the number of dollars you spend, but the opportunities you give up in terms of other items you also want to buy," he said. He offers these tips to help children better understand the nature and value of money:

—Reward children financially for doing chores to teach them the value of hard work.

"It's better to reward kids for tangible things, such as cleaning their rooms, than to give them straight allowances no matter what they do," which can create a "welfare state" at home, Shughart said.

—Teach them the value of currency by explaining the actual dollar costs of their toys.

"Put the coins and bills in front of them and do comparisons to help them see they can buy, for example, four Batman toys for every Jurassic Park dinosaur."

—When buying an item, the child should handle the transaction. Let him or her pay the cashier and take the change. This also teaches the child to handle and count change.

—Savings accounts are appropriate for children around the ages of 7-9. To monitor the cash flow, the child should keep a running ledger of deposits and debits, Shughart advised.

"This will also prepare them by their mid-teen years for the more serious responsibility of their own checking accounts."

—Don't tempt the frugal child with trips to the toy or candy store.

"Kids can't defer their consumption very far into the future," Shughart said. "Whatever they have, they want to spend right away. You must help them exercise discipline."

Johnson named best writer at VA workshop

Michelle Johnson, a recent graduate of Our Lady Academy, recently received the Best Writer Award at the Minority Journalism Workshop at the University of Alabama.

Johnson, 17, was one of 15 high school students and recent high school graduates from Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Tennessee and Colorado to participate in the 10th annual workshop.

She will be a freshman at Dillard University of New Orleans this fall.

During the workshop, students learned how to report and how to write hard news and feature stories. The group also published a tabloid newspaper based on the theme "Making Choices."

The students experienced a mini-college term during the two-week institute, living in dorms and eating in the college dining room.

The workshop included a trip to Montgomery where students spent the morning with capitol correspondents and the afternoon touring the capitol and other historical monuments.

Copies of the newspaper and applications for the 1994 Minority Journalism Workshop are available from Marie Parsons, College of Communication, The University of Alabama, Box 870172, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0172.
